Homegrown Flavor

There's a sweetness and a homegrown Tomato tang that's difficult to find in a shrink-wrapped three-pack from the grocery store. Growing your own Tomatoes is easy with our large selection in 4IN and 6.5IN pots. Plant them in good garden soil, or prepare beds or containers by mixing some compost into the soil. Give plants lots of sun and water regularly. Too much work? Go with our Tomato Sunbasket or décor Sunpatio pot for the deck.

Variety is the Spice of Life

Consider growing a variety of sizes and styles of Tomato if you have the room. That way you'll have a large harvest to cook, can, or freeze, plus a constant supply for snacks, sandwiches, and salads. Determinate varieties are bushy; they grow to a certain height and stop, so fruit is harvested all at once. Indeterminate types are vines that grow with no set limit, producing fruit throughout the season to harvest as needed.

Tiny Tomatoes for Snacking

'Fat Mama'

Determinate: Bushy

Great for smaller gardens or containers. Harvest all at once:

- 'Early Doll'
- 'Fresh Salsa'
- 'Gilbertie Paste'
- 'Roma'

Indeterminate: Vine

Best for larger gardens and usually require staking. Harvest continually all season:

- 'Better Boy'
- 'Big Boy'
- 'Big Rainbow'
- 'Brandy Man'
- 'Bumble Bee Sunrise'
- 'Fat Mama'
- 'Marriage Genuwine'
- 'Mrs. Maxwell's Big Italian'
- 'Orange Zinger'
- 'Sugar Plum'
- 'Supersweet 100'
- 'Yellow Pear'

'Sugar Plum'

Cherry and grape Tomatoes are extra sweet, like 'Sugar Plum' and 'Supersweet 100', or tangy like 'Orange Zinger' for grab-and-go snacking right off the vine. They're also great for tossing into salads. 'Yellow Pear' and 'Bumble Bee Sunrise' are two of the prettiest Tomatoes you'll see in the garden or on a dinner plate.

Plum Style for Paste and Sauce

Plum style Tomatoes are meaty with very few seeds, so they're great for making thick pastes and rich sauces. 'Fat Mama' peels easily after par-boiling. Dripless 'Fresh Salsa' is a prep cook's dream: it can be chopped into tiny cubes that remain perfectly firm and solid.

Slicers and Beefsteaks for Sandwiches and Salads

Robust beefsteaks are great for juicy slabs to top large sandwiches and burgers. 'Big Rainbow' is a showstopper, with yellow flesh streaked neon red—the thick, colorful slices look great on a platter layered with creamy mozzarella. Slicers are a bit smaller and less drippy for more delicate sandwiches and salads. 'Marriage Genuwine' is a hybrid with old-time flavor and an heirloom look.
